'Disaster' Turkey trip family sue

HOLIDAYMAKERS are suing a company after being hit by a stomach bug during their dream stay in Turkey.

A family from Haverhill are one party of a massive law suit against First Choice Holidays.

Their writ against the company is the second time a multi-million pound law action has been brought against the travel firm. In the latest one, issued by top solicitors, Manchester-based Pannone LLP, it is being sued by 659 individuals who claim to have suffered severe stomach disorders after taking First Choice holidays at the Holiday Village Hotel in Sarigerme, Turkey, almost two years ago.

The hundreds of holiday makers complain their all-inclusive holidays left them with food poisoning.

They include Peter Smith, 34, Corral Smith, 13, and Hollie

Rouse, 25, of Pipers Close, Haverhill.

The writ says many of them developed gastro-enteritis, including salmonella, C difficile, and other infections and claims this was the result of them being given uncooked chicken and undercooked turkey, and being allowed to swim in pools contaminated with human faeces.

Staff are accused of serving food lukewarm, failing to refrigerate or freeze food, failing to keep the water supply reasonably safe, failing to store food at the correct temperature, and refilling water dispenser bottles from half empty bottles left by guests.

Mr Smith, a factory worker, said he had paid just over £2,000 for the two-week holiday.

He said: "We had not had a holiday for two years as we had been saving up for this one, which turned out to be a complete disaster."

"We noticed as soon as we got there that food was not covered up and had flies on it."

"Luckily, Hollie was not too bad, probably because she mostly only ate the chips. I was ill for a good five days of the holiday and still had diarrhoea when I got back and had to have four days off work."

"Coral came out with a scabby face, which the doctor said could be from them reusing disposable cups. We noticed straight away the smell of sewage around the pool and we could see stuff floating round in there."

He added: "It was a holiday from hell."

The writ, issued at London's High Court, claims staff at the hotel left the buffet salad bar uncovered, allowing flies to land on it, reused disposable cups, mixed fresh food with food which had been standing some time, and handled raw and cooked meats without washing their hands.

Young stars show off their talents

PERFORMERS who take part in a school's Christmas competition showed off their talents to a wider audience of parents and friends.

Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College at Haverhill has run an annual Christmas Stars in their Eyes event for many years, providing a platform for the wealth of talent in the school, ranging from solo singers and instrumentalists, duets, live bands and dance acts.

Recently, parents and friends were able to watch some of the performers from all years in the school on the stage of Haverhill Arts Centre, ably supported by the full technical team there.

Nearly 40 students performed 26 musical numbers, compered by Steve Watts.

The opening number set the pace for the rest of the show – Geena and Charlee Strowger performing My Strongest Suit by Aida. Every performer rose to the occasion with very professional performances, but particular credit should go to Rowen Brittain as Lady Gaga and Teri Musavengana giving an awesome rendition of the Glee Club's Somebody to Love.

There were very moving performances from Tom Bailey singing REM's Everybody Hurts with Jacob Willmore on guitar, and Chloe Groom, also on guitar, with Katy Perry's Thinking of You.

Charlotte Kowalski gave lively and entertaining performances of All that Jazz and Don't Stop Believing with Rowen and Grace Ash respectively.

Bands played numbers by Nirvana, Arctic Monkeys, and You and Me at 6.

The show also included a Year 11 band performing their own songs.

Car danger in 'closed' road

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A PEDESTRIAN says he narrowly escaped being knocked down by a speeding car – while walking in a street which was supposed to be closed to traffic.

Dennis Backler, 66, said the sports car came speeding up behind him without warning when he was walking along the middle of Queen Street at around 11.30am on Good Friday.

On Easter Monday he was walking in Queen Street again, this time on the pavement, at around the same time, and said he saw a young child only just avoid a collision when five cars came speeding along the road.

Queen Street is closed to traffic from 10am to 4pm and normally barriers are put up in the morning and taken down again at night to prevent traffic entering. Mr Backler believes that the failure to put up barriers on bank holidays is creating a dangerous 'free for all'.

Narrow miss: Dennis Backler who says he would have been hit by a car if he had not been warned by other pedestrians.

He said: "If I had not suddenly turned round due to other pedestrians screaming, I have no doubt I would have been hit by this vehicle, likewise other pedestrians."

"On Easter Monday I again walked along Queen Street, but this time I used the sidewalk. Just as well because I suddenly encountered cars speeding down the street, not one I may add, but five, that is one car every minute."

"A post office clerk who was nearby suddenly grabbed his child's hand to stop him having a collision with one of those cars."

"The usual practice is that road signs stating 'road closed' are put up at ground level. However, on these two days this procedure was not carried out. My conclusion is that motorists and pedestrians do not read traffic signs, therefore they unknowingly either obey or break the traffic regulations. For my part the only safe area is the sidewalk which I will now use at all times."

Last November, Mr Backler objected to plans to open up Quakers Lane, close to his home in Quaker Garden, to more traffic, so that the market could be moved into the High Street and the top part closed to traffic. Mr Backler felt this would put pedestrians at risk and create a dangerous 'rat run'.

A council spokesperson said: "Barriers have not been put up on bank holidays in the past, (and they are not in use on Sundays). But as this problem has been brought to our attention we will investigate whether the barriers should be in place."

Pair in financial dire straits face eviction

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A MUM-TO-BE says she is facing eviction from her home because of delays in securing benefit payments.

Louise Terry, 24, who is seven-months pregnant with her first child, lives with partner Sean Brown in Gannet Close, Haverhill, but has been told that her landlord wants them out because of rent arrears.

Mr Brown became unemployed in January and in February applied for benefits to help pay the rent.

But the couple say they are yet to receive any financial assistance and have now been served with an eviction notice.

They are "still sitting tight in the house" but Louise – who has had a difficult pregnancy and is now thought to be suffering from pre-eclampsia – is becoming stressed and anxious that bailiffs could arrive at any time.

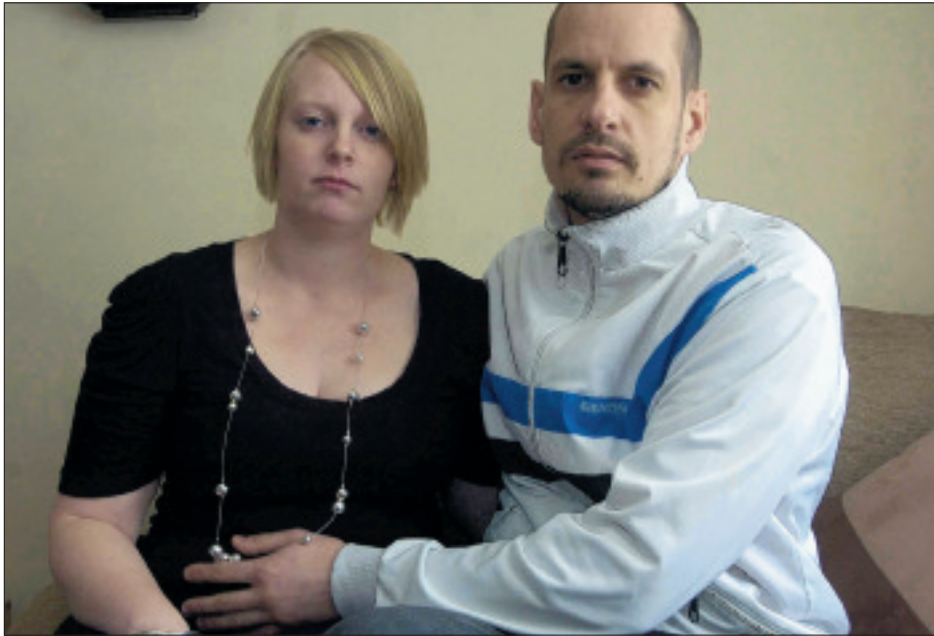

She said: "If we move out, they won't help us at all. A staff member at the benefits office advised us to squat when the bailiffs come.

"They told us we have to put ourselves and our unborn child in danger before they can do anything.

"It is really upsetting, you are supposed to be glowing when you are pregnant, but I don't really feel like it."

Landlord Martin Golding says he is in "a Catch 22 situation" – if he evicts the couple the council will not house them, but unless he receives some rent he could default on mortgage and loan payments and lose the house himself.

Mr Golding said he was owed £1,650 in rent but as Mr Brown was a friend, he had allowed the couple to rent the house at a loss of £550 a month as he was paying £700 a month in mortgage and bank loan charges.

He said: "I need the rent.

"I just don't really know what to do. I did serve them with notice of eviction proceedings but I have not taken it any further.

"I cannot carry on with no rent, or I will be forced to sell the property and they will have to go."

A spokesman for St Edmundsbury Borough Council said: "There was some initial delay on the tenant's part – returning the claim form and because more information was needed – before the claim could be processed but the housing benefit was then backdated to the first Monday after the claimant's initial application.

"Now that we are aware they are in arrears we will organise for future payments to go direct to the landlord.

"The claimants do not qualify for full housing benefit so they will need to make some contribution to the rent themselves to prevent falling into arrears.

"The benefit was paid within 14 days of receiving all the information – which is our target."

County tells Alzheimer's OAP to pay up

A COUPLE have asked the Health Ombudsman to intervene in a continuing row about funding for the care of a 90-year-old woman suffering from Alzheimer's.

Daphne Humphrey was diagnosed with Alzheimer's and dementia in August 2007 and has since been cared for at the Catchpole Court residential home in Sudbury.

Her daughter Carole and son-in-law, Glyn Northrop, of Withersfield Road, Haverhill, have been embroiled in a long-running battle with Suffolk County Council over the crippling cost of her care.

They have been pushing for action to be taken by the local health authority against West Suffolk

Hospital, where they say Mrs Humphrey contracted c-difficile, which left her incontinent.

They recently received a 'final reminder' invoice from the county council for £1,140, which threatened legal action if the debt was not paid within seven days.

Mr Northrop wrote back expressing his concern about "the whole debacle of our sick mother", noting that he had written letters to the council in 2008 and 2009 without a reply, until the final demand arrived.

In the letter, also sent to the Ombudsman, he wrote: "Why have my efforts to get a response from you not been taken seriously until now? Legal action against a lady with Alzheimer's disease who will be 91 next birthday?

"She is now in West Suffolk Hospital again as a result of a collapse due to one of many mini strokes. She is on oxygen and anti-blood clotting insulin to help her survival due to her inability to move and seriously low blood pressure.

"Mrs Humphrey has had massive demands on her resources and is being pushed into unacceptable stress and financial catastrophe."

A spokesman for Suffolk County Council said he could not comment on individual cases, but said: "Everybody who requires care, either in their own home or a residential home, is asked to provide information about their income annually in order to work out how much they should pay towards the cost of their care.

"Some people will pay nothing or make a small contribution irrespective of how much care they might need, while others with resources above a certain limit will be required to pay the full cost."

'Holiday from hell' family join law suit

The holidaymakers accuse First Choice of failing to inspect hygiene standards at the hotel.

The company is also said to have failed to tell guests leaving after April 2008 of an outbreak of gastric illness, and to give them the chance of cancelling their holiday for a refund.

First Choice has admitted liability for its suppliers' negligence, the writ says. However, the two sides are thought unable to agree how much compensation the holidaymakers should receive.

The holidaymakers had stayed at the hotel between April and October 2008 and the writ says many fell ill with gastro enteritis, vomiting, diarrhoea and stomach cramps.

An audit by First Choice in September 2008 is said to have noted minor dirt under shelves in dry stores, failure to cover food in freezers, failure to keep chicken and mince cold enough, and the placing of crates directly on the floor,

Man exposes himself

A MAN exposed himself to a woman on the old railway line in Coupsals Road, Haverhill, last week.

The incident happened at around 11.30am on Wednesday, April 7.

The man is described as white, 5ft 5in tall, of slim to medium build with short dark hair, sideburns and stubble and was wearing grey jogging bottoms, a black jumper and a black tracksuit top.

Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Pc Matthew Dale at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Bottle up your change to help charity

PRIMARY school pupils in Haverhill are being urged to turn their 'small change into big change' for Oxfam – with the chance to win a brand new flat screen television.

The UK-wide National Plughole Week in aid of Oxfam is being launched and schools, individuals and businesses of all sizes are being encouraged to sign up for the 'Bottle for Change' appeal.

This will raise funds to support Oxfam's sanitation work in developing countries where 5,000 children die each day because they do not have clean, safe water.

Participants will be given free bottles of mineral water and asked to fill the empty containers with 1p, 5p and 20p coins. A bottle filled with 1p coins (approx £4) is enough for Oxfam to provide life-saving water filtration buckets for two families.

A new digital camera is on offer to the school which raises the most money within Suffolk, while the school which raises the most nationally will be awarded a flat screen TV.

If you would like to take part, request your free 'Bottle for Change' mineral water from National Plughole Week co-ordinator Amy Bullard, on (01473) 326403 or email amy.bullard@projectpr.biz For more information, visit www.nationalplugholeweek.com

Open day to raise funds for hospice

FREE use of a leisure centre facilities and a chance to join the gym by making a charitable donation will be on offer at Haverhill on Sunday, April 25.

Abbeycroft Leisure will celebrate its fifth birthday with an open day at Haverhill Leisure Centre.

Visitors will be able to use all the facilities for free including swimming, badminton, squash, Kid City and Tots Town, and the health suite which features a sauna and steam room, when they make a minimum donation of £1 for St Nicholas Hospice.

For one day only the centre will also be waiving its joining fee for the gym.

The event includes all facilities except for the gym and the sunbeds, where a full induction is needed for health and safety reasons. Badminton and squash courts must be booked in advance of the day.

Warren Smyth, chief executive of Abbeycroft Leisure, said: "This is just one of the many ways we are giving back to the community to celebrate our fifth birthday.

"By opening the centre for a pound we give the local community a chance to try facilities they may not have used before and we help support the vital work of St Nicholas Hospice."

Abbeycroft Leisure was established in 2005 as a Charitable Leisure Trust and independent company, which manages both Haverhill and Bury St Edmunds Leisure Centres in partnership with St Edmundsbury Borough Council.

Five-year-old kids join in party celebrations

FIVE-year-olds enjoyed an extra birthday celebration this year when they were invited along to their local leisure centre.

The children who had their fifth birthdays in 2010 were treated to a party at Haverhill Leisure Centre on Sunday to celebrate the fifth birthday of Abbeycroft Leisure.

Abbeycroft, which operates the leisure centre, wanted to share its birthday with children in the town who also turned five this year.

The party, which took place in the sports hall, featured a host of entertainment including a bouncy castle, children's disco, children's entertainer, and a special appearance by Abbeycroft's mascot Scales the Dragon.

Warren Smyth, chief executive of Abbeycroft Leisure, said: "We wanted to share our fifth birthday with all those children in the town who celebrate their fifth birthday this year. This is just one way of showing our appreciation to the community who have supported us."

Bail for two teenagers

TWO teenagers arrested on suspicion of causing criminal damage to a window and a gate at a restaurant on Station Road in Haverhill and vehicles on Crowland Road in the early hours of Wednesday, April 7, have been released on bail.

One 16-year-old youth from Haverhill must return to Bury Police Station on May 3, the second 16-year-old from Haverhill must return on May 19. Calls in relation to these incidents should be made to Pc Cris Reynolds at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Trailer theft bid thwarted

TWO men wearing balaclavas were disturbed in an open barn attempting to hitch a trailer to a car at Great Bradley.

The attempted theft happened at Hall Road at around 9.55pm on Wednesday, April 7, when the men were trying to hitch the trailer to a dark coloured Skoda Octavia, in which they drove off empty handed towards the B1061.

Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Pc Matthew Hammill at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Pergola stolen from garden

A CHINESE pergola and a granite Buddha were stolen from a garden at Horsham Close, Haverhill, between 9pm on Friday, April 9, and 6am on Saturday.

Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Sgt Sarah Bartley at the Haverhill Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

help of charity Making A Difference - Locally (MADL).

The MADL charity was formed in May 2008 to assist more than 2,000 independent retailers throughout the UK with raising money for local communities.

Dilip Visana, owner of the Old Village Store, said: "We chose this local charity as when we took over the business five years ago the local community showed us a lot of support so we feel now is the time to give them something back.

"Our village community centre needs this donation desperately as they need to install a new CCTV system.

"The centre is used a lot by many different organisations in the village therefore we decided this would be the best way to repay them for their valued support."

Pupils badly let down

Sir, I am pleased to read that the upper schools are now making such good progress. Haverhill has, however, missed out on an excellent opportunity to unite the town with one upper school and one sixth form college. Combining resources in this way would allow the 14 - 19 curriculum to be fully implemented, giving our young people the opportunity to study within the town, at an age when they are mature enough to cope with large numbers, rather than having to travel out of the town to sixth form colleges which can offer the complete range of subjects. My children's middle school has always maintained rigorous academic standards, had very good Ofsted reports and has got on with the job of providing excellent education and pastoral care for the students. The size of the school is the optimum level for children's wellbeing, as recommended by education experts, including the government's own advisors. It is being closed down. The current reorganisation (implemented by the Conservative county council) is supposedly intended to improve education for all children. Those who are caught up in it now, however, have been badly let down.

The county promised that students would not be working in temporary classrooms: the primary schools are already a mass of temporary classrooms (and yet more are planned, see the local papers, April 1) and disruptive building sites. The county promised that the transition would be smooth: students are now being taught and managed by an ever-increasing number of supply teachers and cover supervisors, as their experienced and specialist staff go out to visit prospective schools, attend numerous interviews or leave for other areas, before they are made redundant. The rate at which the county is spending money on a scheme which, even on their own, contested, figures, may bring a tiny improvement in GCSE results, leaves me seriously concerned about what dramatic cutbacks will be required in the near future. What other promises regarding our young people's education will be broken?

Sir, Thanks for your informative article on the disused 'Project Office Furniture' site and its future and the information on how our short-sighted councillors intend to block any application for planning permission on the grounds that it would be detrimental to the High Street traders.

I wonder how many of those councillors are 'in the pockets' of the High Street traders as any application seems to get the knock

MEMORIES

■ THIS week's picture, taken from our archives, shows a popular local traffic warden.

Do you recognise anyone in the picture or know what the event was? Do you know where and when it was taken?

Send your answers to: Memories, Haverhill Weekly News, 4 Queen Street, Haverhill, CB9 9EF by Tuesday morning, or email editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Last week's Memories photograph, from our archives, showed the hand-over of a petition calling for a crossing at Place Farm School in Haverhill. It was taken in October, 1989.

Many issues need support

Sir, Yet again Cllr Cox demonstrates his unwavering ability to oppose change in Haverhill.

Whatever the project, from children's facilities to care homes for the elderly, from sports facilities to shopping facilities, he opposes it. And this despite the fact that these projects not only improve the quality of life for his residents, but are also primarily funded by central government, business and the National Lottery.

The continued minimal Council Tax increases for the borough and county councils is evidence itself of this fact.

I have tried to establish what Cllr Cox does support. His opposition at borough council meetings to (any) proposals is so frequent that a rubber stamp could be made for the minutes.

He claims to represent his residents – obviously not those who use the leisure centre, Cineworld, KFC, Tesco's, Queen Street, the new Football Academy, the improved school facilities, or those who will use the new purpose-built care facility.

I note that despite his opposition to the changes occurring in Haverhill he still retains the support of his Conservative colleagues, the very ones who are supporting the changes. Why are they so weak that they allow him to remain a member of the party?

When there are so many issues that need councillors' support – like reducing the serious health inequalities in town, like attracting additional visitors to the town centre, like helping retain and expand employment opportunities, like increasing educational and life attainment and aspirations amongst our young people – can we afford to have the likes of Cllr Cox continually denigrating every attempt to improve facilities? I think not.

Cllr Cox describes those who support these proposals as "Mad Hatters". This then, continuing the Alice in Wonderland theme, makes him the caterpillar.

And to save readers fast-forwarding through the book or DVD, Alice does not like the caterpillar when they first meet, because he does not immediately talk to her and when he does, it is usually in short, rather rude sentences.

Kirsty's marathon bid to raise over £2,000

RECEPTIONIST Kirsty Millard has already raised more than £2,000 in pledges for her London Marathon run to help a charity that encourages children with disabilities to take up sport.

Thanks to people who use Haverhill Leisure Centre regularly, family and friends, Kirsty has already reached her target sponsorship.

She was also helped by a raffle at the centre with prizes donated by local companies including Subway, Frankie & Bennys, Cherry Tree Butchers, Cambridge United FC and Abbeycroft Leisure.

Kirsty, 26, has called on the help of Haverhill hypnotherapist Peter Doherty, at Haverhill Physiotherapy Clinic, to help get her in the right mindset for the challenge.

Kirsty, who hopes to complete the 26-mile marathon in under five hours, started running in April to lose weight after having her son Freddie.

Having never run before, she followed the Rosemary Conley running programme to gradually build up her stamina.

In June she ran the 5k Race for Life in Bury St Edmunds in just 29 minutes and in October she ran the Cancer Research UK 10k from Ickworth House with her husband Kevin.

She has been training three times a week since November for the marathon, completing two short runs and one long run each week, each time adding an extra mile.

Kirsty will taking part in the London Marathon on April 25 to help Get Kids Going, a national charity which gives disabled children and young people the opportunity of participating in sport.

Kirsty, from Recreation Road, Haverhill, said: "Visitors to Haverhill Leisure Centre and local businesses have been fantastically supportive of my fundraising for Get Kids Going.

"I'm really excited about running in the London Marathon for the first time and can't wait to cross the finishing line."

Dominic Greenwood, general manager of the leisure centre, said: "We are all very proud of Kirsty and the money she has raised to support children with disabilities take up sport.

"We will be tuning in to the marathon to see if we can spot her on the big day."

To sponsor Kirsty, pick up a sponsorship form at Haverhill Leisure Centre or leave a donation in the collection boxes in reception and in Kid City. Further details on Kirsty's marathon challenge can be found at the Haverhill Leisure Centre website at www.aclisure.com

Diving in for charity

SWIMMERS from Haverhill will be raising money for Marie Curie Cancer Care on Sunday by completing a swimathon at the leisure centre.

Twenty seven swimmers will be challenging themselves to complete a 5k, 2.5k or 1.5k swim individually or as part of a team.

There is still time to enter the swimathon, which starts at 10.30am, by registering online at www.swimathon.org or by calling 0845 36 700 36.

Last year's Swimathon raised almost £1.5million for Marie Curie Cancer Care and The Swimathon foundation. The money funds the work of more than 2,000 Marie Curie nurses across the UK.

Dominic Greenwood, general manager at Haverhill Leisure Centre, said: "We are proud to host the Swimathon this year for Marie Curie Cancer Care and we hope that thousands of pounds will be raised by Haverhill swimmers for this great cause.

"If you cannot make it along to the pool on Sunday then you can also register for Simply-Swim, a challenge which allows you to swim your own chosen distance at the pool at your chosen time."

Be on alert for conmen on doorstep

SUFFOLK residents have been persuaded by callers to part with large sums of money for services they could have received free elsewhere.

People are being advised to be vigilant when answering their doors after complaints were received by Trading Standards.

Tristram Singh, fair trading officer for Suffolk County Council, said a person claiming to be from the benefits agency charged £3,000 for a service which could have been received for free by going to the right people.

He said: "It's very worrying that vulnerable people are being targeted by rogue conmen and parting with such large amounts of money."

If you are approached at your door, Suffolk Trading Standards offer the following advice:

Ask for ID – all genuine callers will carry identification and they won't mind waiting while you call the company to check who they are.

Do not sign anything – if you are offered a service, do not sign a contract there and then. Go away and obtain quotes from others offering the same service. A genuine caller will be happy to leave a quote and come back.

Feel empowered to ask them to leave your property – it is your house, so feel free to say no if you don't want them there. If they persist and you feel intimidated, call the police.

If anyone feels their area is being targeted by rogue traders, Trading Standards are currently setting up No Cold Calling Zones around the county. To apply, and see if your area is eligible, contact Suffolk Trading Standards on (01473) 264859.

Missing teen is found

A MISSING teenager was found after an hour-long ground and helicopter search in Haverhill.

Suffolk police confirmed that they were notified of a vulnerable missing 19-year-old man in Haverhill at around 9.15pm last Thursday. Local officers and air support were deployed to look for him and he was found in East Town Park at around 10.25pm.

He was taken to Adden-brooke's by ambulance to be checked over.

Five join in fight for West Suffolk

FIVE candidates have been declared so far in the battle for the WEST SUFFOLK constituency in the 2010 General Election.

Conservative Richard Spring has been the sitting MP since the 1997 election, but is not seeking re-election on May 6.

Since 1997, Haverhill has been brought into the constituency to join the Newmarket and Mildenhall areas, while Bury St Edmunds was removed from the seat.

One of the key issues is expected to be the future of Newmarket's horseracing.

2005 Result

Marathon effort: Jackie Dockerill is raising money for the charity Bliss.

Jackie booked up for big run

A WOMAN is hoping that running her 13th marathon will not prove unlucky as she is raising funds for a charity which helped save her first child's life.

Jackie Dockerill, who runs her own book-keeping business in Haverhill, is running the Halstead marathon on May 9 to raise money for the charity Bliss.

Bliss is very close to Jackie's heart, as it helped save the life of her daughter Alice, who was born more than five weeks early. Her lungs were not developed fully and she needed machines to help her breath for the first two weeks of her life, in the West Suffolk

Hospital neo natal unit.

Jackie is also the treasurer of the Haverhill Running Club and her running has influenced her company brand and name "Running Total Book-keeping".

Jackie said: "This was a very last minute decision to run the marathon, as I have been very busy buying a business with my husband over the last few months. But I saw it as a great opportunity to raise money for a very deserving charity, which helps many sick new born babies every year."

Taxi drivers to take new test

NEW taxi drivers in St Edmundsbury will be the first in the county to pass a driver assessment and preparation course, before being granted a licence.

The course for new taxi drivers is being run by St Edmundsbury Borough Council and the training is provided by Suffolk County Council's road safety team. The course covers both theory and practical training, including customer care, disability awareness and legal responsibilities.

Hilary Workman, licensing manager at St Edmundsbury Borough Council, said: "We had 62 applications from new taxi drivers last year. The job involves long hours and a lot of concentration."

"The course aims to ensure a good standard of driving among the borough's

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Hackney Cab and private hire car drivers and give confidence to drivers and passengers alike."

Cllr Guy McGregor, Suffolk County Council's portfolio holder for road transport and planning, said: "The county council hopes that this service will be taken up by other authorities in the county."

"Drivers who pass the assessment will receive a certificate and a cab badge so that their customers can see they have been through an approved training course and have reached a certain standard of knowledge and competence."

Zones make residents feel safer

RESIDENTS of Suffolk say they feel a whole lot safer in their homes a year after Suffolk Trading Standards launched No Cold Calling Zones (NCCZ) in the county.

A recent survey on the effect of NCCZ's found that more than half of residents said they and their neighbours felt safer in their homes since the zones had been established.

Peter Korwin, principal trading standards officer, said: "It's great to see that residents are seeing a difference in these zones and feel safer in their homes. The fact that rogue traders have a warning that they are not welcome is clearly having an impact."

"We found that over 60 per cent of residents had not had a single visit from an uninvited trader, and the same number are now aware of what a rogue trader is and took precautions when answering the door.

"It's great to see these zones are having such an impact and empowering residents in the county."

"Now we know they are such a success we'll be looking to establish more in order to protect the most vulnerable members of our community."

If you think your area would benefit from being a No Cold Calling Zone, contact Trading Standards on (01473) 264859.

Inquest opens on prisoner

AN inquest has opened into the death of a prisoner who was found hanged in his cell at Highpoint Prison, Stradishall, almost three years ago.

Repon Iqbal Khan, 36, was discovered on May 30, 2007, in his cell, hanged by a shoelace around his neck which was tied around the ceiling strip light.

The inquest opened at the Athenaeum in Bury St Edmunds on Tuesday, when a jury was sworn in, and is expected to continue until April 30.

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A report read at the inquest said prison officers Gemma Brighton and Robert Jones had been making morning cell checks when officer Brighton discovered Khan.

She shouted for assistance and tried to hold his weight up until help arrived. His body was cold and rigid, with the head hanging forward.

Officer Jones arrived and breath was heard to exhale from his body as they lifted him. The shoelace was cut and the body lowered to the ground.

They called for medical assistance, but there was no sign of life and another officer began chest compressions.

Attempts were continued to try to resuscitate Khan, but officers could not get a mask onto his face.

The hearing continues.

Show plans get up steam

PLANNING is well under way for the Thurlow Steam and Country Show which will take place in August and celebrate its 30th anniversary.

The event will be held on August 7 and 8 on Horseheath Racecourse, off the A1307 near Linton, and is once again being run with the support of the East Anglian Traction Engine Society.

Over the years the event has raised a large sum of money for local charities.

Among the attractions booked to attend is a selection of steam engines of all types, as well as miniature steam, bygones, a wide range of vintage tractors, vehicles and stationary engines. Fairground organs will provide old time musical entertainment.

It is hoped to feature more working exhibits this year, to give visitors the chance to see the way jobs were done in the good old days, including a demonstration of steam wood sawing.

Many kinds of refreshments will be available on site, as well as the beer tent, trade stands, and a craft tent.

Admission will be £6 for adults, £5 for OAPs and £2 for children. A family ticket (for two adults and up to three children) will be £16. Car parking is free. On site camping will be £20 for the weekend.

Michael Pumfrey, of the organising committee, said: "As ever, we welcome anybody who feels they may be able to help with the event, either by sponsoring an engine, advertising in the programme, or helping on site."

For any inquiries, contact Michael Pumfrey on 07711 988332 or email mrpumfrey@tractionengines.com

Two sent for trial by jury

TWO men facing charges of conspiracy to burgle commercial premises have had the case against them sent to Ipswich Crown court.

William Parker, 21, of Darrens Farm, Fen Road, Cambridge, and Levi Smith, 26, of Valley View, Stanstead, near Sudbury, both face charges of conspiracy to burgle between July 2009 and March 2010.

They are also both charged with conversion of criminal property between May 2009 and March 2010. Parker is also charged with attempted theft and Smith with aggravated vehicle taking.

At Bury St Edmunds magistrates court on Tuesday District Judge David Cooper granted both men unconditional bail until they appear at the Crown court on June 25.

Special status for school

A SUCCESSFUL school has been granted special status to help other under-performing schools to improve.

Education Secretary Ed Balls has announced that Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College, Haverhill, is one of only 23 secondary schools across the country to have an Accredited School Provider (ASP) status. Accredited Schools Providers will support and lead up to two under-performing schools in need of sustained improvement.

Mr Balls said: "Getting the best to lead and support their neighbours is a proven way of raising standards in all schools and encouraging high achieving schools to become ASPs would be a key strategy in improving standards."

Headteacher, Howard Lay (pictured left) said "This is a fantastic achievement for the school and will enable us to develop the Samuel Ward brand across schools throughout East Anglia. It will provide Samuel Ward with additional resources and enable us to further expand."

Top award for tenants' service

A HOUSING association has become the first in the east of England to be accredited for its resident involvement service.

Havebury Housing Partnership, which manages homes in Haverhill, Bury St Edmunds and surrounding villages, has received the recognition from national body, the Tenant Participation Advisory Service (TPAS).

TPAS looked thoroughly at every aspect of Havebury's work with its tenants and spent a total of three days on site carrying out interviews, focus groups and observations before the award was made.

Michelle Reid, chief executive of TPAS, presented the award and congratulated Havebury on its achievements, particularly the strong sense of respect between employees and residents.

Sandy Norris, chair of Havebury's Tenants' Forum, said: "This award goes to show that getting involved does work and if we focus our energies on the issues that are important to us, changes can be made."

"Everyone on the forum is keen that as many tenants as possible can share their views and I know the employees at Havebury are working hard to encourage this with a new series of consultations in our communities.

"I hope tenants take the opportunity to go along because without tenants' views, things can't move forward."

The accreditation from TPAS supports excellent satisfaction survey results received from tenants regarding the opportunities available to get involved at Havebury.

Limited consent

CONSENT for temporary classrooms at three schools in Haverhill should only be allowed until 2013, members of Haverhill Town Council's planning committee have agreed. Plans for the temporary classrooms to accommodate pupils during the schools' organisation review have been submitted to St Edmundsbury Borough Council by Westfield, Coupsals and New Cangle Primary schools.

Parking badge theft

A WALLET containing a disabled parking badge was stolen from a woman's shoulder bag in High Street, Haverhill, between 2pm and 4pm on Saturday. Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Sgt Sarah Bartley at the Haverhill Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

AGM for residents

THE ANNUAL General Meeting of the Parkway Residents/Community Association will be held at 7pm on Monday at Castle Hill Middle School. Tenants and residents are invited to attend and vote for a new committee, which meets with councillors and representatives from other bodies for the improvement of the estate.

Vandals scratch car

A GREEN Mazda MX5 was scratched on the nearside and bonnet at Camps Road, Haverhill, between 5.05pm and 5.35pm on Thursday, April 8. Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Pc Carl Edley at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Hot food bid opposed

HAVERHILL Town Council's planning committee is objecting to a change of use application from retail to hot food takeaway at Unit 1, Appleacre Road, Haverhill, because of concerns regarding the additional traffic the development would attract to the area.

Legend pays tribute to Hollywood greats

TWO things immediately surprise me about Debbie Reynolds. The first is when she picks up the phone at her Beverley Hills home and says "Hello Paul, thank you for calling", before I've even introduced myself. The second is when she launches into an apology for something – a mix-up over interview slots – that wasn't her fault.

For any journalist familiar with the bruising PR machine of today's movie industry, this throwback to a gentler, more courteous Hollywood age is disarming. But then, Hollywood did everything differently in Debbie's day.

"I was lucky to live in the golden age of Hollywood," says the 78-year-old. "We had great studios behind us and we had people producing a variety of great films for us; we had gangster films, westerns, comedies... they weren't all just science fiction and shoot 'em ups. We had more romantic films – more beautiful films."

The Debbie Reynolds Story would have made quite a picture in itself, back in those days. Born Mary Frances Reynolds in El Paso, Texas, in 1932, she endured hard times after father

As she brings her variety show to Cambridge, the Hollywood legend Debbie Reynolds tells Paul Kirkley about the highlights and lowlights of 60 years in showbusiness.

Raymond, a carpenter, lost his job and the family home at the height of the Great Depression. Having found work on the Southern Pacific Railroad, Raymond moved the family to California, where 16-year-old 'Frannie' entered the Miss Burbank beauty pageant, wowing the judges by lip-synching to Betty Hutton's I'm A Square in the Social Circle. This being California, two of the judges happened to be talent scouts for Warner Brothers and MGM. A coin was tossed in order to decide who would be the first to screen test the new Miss Burbank; the Warner's scout won, and Frannie signed a $65-a-week contract with the studio, where Jack Warner changed her first name to Debbie.

Debbie Reynolds made her screen debut as a teenage extra in June Bride (1948). Further supporting roles followed but, when the studio decided she was too young to be properly developed, MGM stepped in and signed her to its standard seven-year, $300-a-week contract. "Everything happened like a story – like a fairytale," recalls Debbie. "And then I fell into this fast lane of showbusiness. I was only 16; I knew nothing about showbusiness – nothing about acting and nothing about dancing or singing. To go from nothing to something glamorous and fabulous, I had to immediately study very hard."

The adventure intensified in 1951 when studio head Louis B Meyer instructed director Stanley Donen to cast Debbie as the female lead in a new musical, Singin' In The Rain, alongside Gene Kelly and Donald O'Connor. Half a century later, the film stands as one of the most successful, best-loved movies of all time.

"Gene Kelly says he insisted on having me, but I don't believe that story," says Debbie. "I remember Mr Meyer pushing me. He was the man who put me in Singin' In The Rain. But Mr Kelly taught me. He taught me everything – how to act, how to dance, how to turn and face the camera, how to smile for the camera. He was quite a disciplinarian but he was a great teacher and I'm still around because of him."

By the mid-1950s, Debbie was one of Hollywood's most bankable stars. Her romance with pop idol Eddie Fisher captured the imagination of the world; the Brangelina of their day, the couple married in 1955 and, the following year, Debbie gave birth to a daughter, Carrie, followed in 1958 by a son, Todd.

Shortly afterwards, Eddie Fisher's best friend, Mike Todd, was killed in a plane crash. The singer spent a lot of time comforting Todd's widow, Elizabeth Taylor, and the couple's subsequent love affair became one of the biggest showbiz scandals of the age.

Thus 1959 proved a year of extraordinary personal and professional contrasts for Debbie: she was ranked fifth among the world's top box office stars, yet had to suffer losing her husband to "the most beautiful woman in the world". How would she describe her life at that time? "Turbulent!" she laughs.

While the 60s saw her moving into television, she continued her film career with the likes of historical epic How The West Was Won and then, in 1964, she received an Oscar nomination for her title role in The Unsinkable Molly Brown, a musical biopic of the American socialite and Titanic survivor.

As the 60s turned into the 70s, Debbie could see Hollywood's golden age slipping away, and hit upon a plan to try to preserve a piece of it, purchasing thousands of items from an MGM auction with a view to building The Hollywood Motion Picture Museum. But disaster struck when her second husband, shoe store millionaire Harry Alive and Fabulous: Debbie Reynolds.

Karl, was forced to file for insolvency.

"When my husband went bankrupt and lost everything, in California it's community property so they fined me $10 million and it took me 10 years to pay off that debt," says Debbie, matter-of-factly. "So I've had to work constantly to survive and rebuild my own financial situation."

That bankruptcy has come to define Debbie's life, to a greater or lesser extent, ever since. As well as appearing in films, on television and on Broadway, she has spent many years tirelessly performing her one-woman variety show at venues across the States.

"In America, I travel 42 weeks of the year," she says. "I've been on stage 62 years: movies first and then nightclubs and theatre." And now, for the first time in almost four decades, Debbie is bringing her latest show, Alive and Fabulous, to the UK, including a date at Cambridge Corn Exchange later this month. "It's a variety show. I do a little bit of everything – we run clips from my films and I sing along. We do a tribute to Judy Garland, who was a great friend of mine, and I do impressions. I was lucky to get to meet all the great stars – I worked with Bette Davis and Katharine Hepburn and Mae West and Marlene Dietrich, and I do impressions of all of them."

Stars line up for Oxfam concert

OXFAM will host its spring fundraising gig at the CB2 Bistro, Norfolk Street, Cambridge, on Sunday.

Among the stellar line-up of artists is innovative local singer/songwriter Anne L. Ryan, acoustic soul singer Beth Waltheu and Luis on classical guitar.

Rowena Whitehead and Friends will be sharing fascinating songs from around the world, along with Pandora's Box and their atmospheric folk and pop tunes, poetry from Andrea Porter. It starts at 8pm. Entry is £5 on the door all proceeds go to Oxfam.

In-store show from Irish trio

IRISH trio Ash will be performing a free acoustic in-store show at Fopp in Cambridge on Tuesday.

The acoustic show and signing session at the Sydney Street store begins at 5pm when the band will play three of their numbers.

The musical treat is being held to celebrate the release of their new compilation A-Z Volume 1. The compilation is released on Monday through Atomic Heart Records.

Catch night fever with the Bee Gees brothers

THERE will be Saturday Night Fever at the Haverhill Arts Centre this weekend when Bee Gees Magic hits town.

The Bee Gees entire, glittering career will be wrapped up in one spectacular live concert on Saturday.

Starting at 8pm, the show will re-live all the hits drawn from the Gibbs brothers' three chart-topping decades, with all the trio's songs from Saturday Night Fever including Stayin' Alive and Night Fever.

It also includes hits written by Maurice, Barry and Robin for other artists, such as If I Can't Have You, Chain Reaction, and Islands in the Stream.

Tickets are £15 with concessions £12.50.

■ Your local brass band, Haverhill Silver, will be on the centre's stage on Sunday with Classical Spectacular. ## WHIP IT (12A, 111 mins)

Comedy. Ellen Page, Juliette Lewis, Kristen Wiig, Marcia Gay Harden, Daniel Stern, Eulalia Scheel, Drew Barrymore, Landon Pigg, Alia Shawkat.

Director: Drew Barrymore.

YOUTH springs eternal for Ellen Page.

Oscar nominated for her role as a pregnant 16-year-old in the raucous comedy Junjo, the 23-year-old Canadian actress has forged a career playing dysfunctional and pithy teenagers.

There are more growing pains in Whip It, the auspicious directorial debut of Drew Barrymore based on the novel Derby Girl by Shauna Cross.

Set in the cut-throat world of women's roller derby, this entertaining tale of female empowerment puts a traditional coming-of-age story on four wheels and celebrates the sisterly solidarity within a low-ranked team as its feisty members body-check their way up the league.

Novelist Cross lovingly adapts her book for the screen and retains all the humour and the pathos, keeping the tone relatively light to hold the interest of teenage audiences who will appreciate the heroine's struggle for independence – and the hip soundtrack laden with Kaiser Chiefs, MGMT, The Breeders, Peaches and The Raveonettes. Hormonally-charged teenager, Bliss Cavendar (Page), is at the mercy of her beauty-pageant obsessed mum, Brooke (Gay Harden).

Ungainly and unfeminine, Bliss loves indie music and stands little chance of winning the Miss Blue Bonnet Pageant, which Brooke is convinced will be her daughter's ticket to fame and fortune.

Bliss sees a flyer for roller derby trials and secretly attends the tryout in Austin for league underdogs, the Hurl Scouts. Maggie Mayhem (Wiig) and Smashley Simpson (Barrymore) take Bliss under their wing and the teen discovers her calling as her alter ego, Babe Ruthless.

The introduction of the new member to the Hurl Scouts catalyses a dramatic change in fortunes, setting up the inevitable championship showdown with Iron Maven (Lewis) and her posse. Meanwhile, Bliss drifts apart from best friend Pash (Shawkat) and embarks on a romance with musician Oliver (Pigg).

Shortcuts to propagating perfect plants and flowers

BC Gardeners' World regular Carol Klein has been busy taking basal cuttings to increase her collection of perennials, including delphiniums, lupins and phlox.

She points out that the beauty about basal cuttings is that plants can be cloned exactly in this way, to give a new plant the exact characteristics of its parent, whereas if they are grown from seed they often lose the special traits for which they are valued, reverting to the straight species.

Carol says: "Taking basal cuttings is incredibly easy. You can take them from plants which are really difficult to divide or are grown from seed. The best time to take basal cuttings is from the new growth in spring."

Carol hopes her new book about propagation, Grow Your Own Garden, will encourage gardeners who have up to now been either too scared or too busy to have a go.

She adds: "It's hugely satisfying. The very first time you get a cutting to root and then you grow it into a big plant, the feeling is like nothing else."

by Hannah Stephenson

"You can collect seeds from many plants which will become reasonably true, but if you take basal cuttings it means you get an exact replica of the parent."

She has taken basal cuttings from many hardy plants as well as dahlia – once the plants have started growing in spring.

"Pot them up, water them well and keep them in a warm place like a greenhouse or warm windowsill, which must be bright or the shoots will become long and stringy."

"When the dahlias have made three or four inches of growth, take a sharp knife like a veg knife and push it in between the strong shoot and the crown of the plant, cutting without damaging the tuber."

An older plant should give you a handful of strong cuttings which you should then re-pot, preferably in a clay pot.

"I always put my dahlia cuttings into clay pots because I find they root much more easily because clay's a natural material, the pots are porous and that earthiness seems to encourage roots to form."

Evenly space about five cuttings around the edge of a 15cm (5in) pot filled with gritty compost. Carol uses chopsticks to make the hole in the compost to house the cuttings. Plant them in so there's around an inch of cutting below the surface, then water them well with a fine rose on your watering can.

"Drench the compost so it will settle the compost and cuttings down, make sure there are no air pockets and put them in as warm a place as you have," she explains.

Some people make little tents for the cuttings out of clear plastic bags, but Carol says if you save a tall punnet from the supermarket you can make a mini greenhouse out of that or use a shower cap to cover them to create an environment to retain moisture. Just make sure the cover is not in contact with the foliage or it may rot. Heated propagators will probably take a couple of weeks off the rooting time.

"Make sure the foliage doesn't dry out, so spray it with a fine mist from time to time. It will take about a month for the cuttings to root without any bottom heat."

When roots appear from the hole in the bottom of the pot, re-pot each cutting, knocking them out of the pot carefully and re-potting each one into their own pot.

She says: "You can plant the cuttings later on in the summer or carry on growing them on in pots and they'll make decent-sized tubers and when they die down in the autumn, you'll have a good amount of tuber under the soil."

"If you put the young plants into the garden, be sure to lift them before it gets frosty. They might flower the first year but I'd take the flowers off because you want the strength to be directed to the tuber under the ground."

"Propagating is enormously exciting, hugely rewarding and each time you do it you re-affirm the primacy of the earth and the plants that grow in it."

■ Grow Your Own Garden, by Carol Klein, is published by BBC Books, priced £20.

Polo and BlueMotion triumph at World Car

THE Volkswagen Polo has won the "2010 World Car of the Year" award at the International Auto Show in New York City.

"We're honoured that the Volkswagen Polo was chosen by this distinguished group of jurors," said Prof Dr Martin Winterkorn, Volkswagen's chairman. "After the great triumph of the Golf last year, we are delighted to repeat this success with the new Polo. This shows that Volkswagen is on the right track and is offering arguably the best range of products in its history."

The latest generation of the Volkswagen Polo has quickly become a favorite in the brand's line-up to drivers and media alike, with its uncluttered design, and exceptional versatility and efficiency.

The annual World Car of the Year awards recognise the year's most outstanding vehicles based on merit, value, safety, environmental impact, significance, and emotional appeal.

Now in their seventh year, the World Car of the Year awards, have become one of the most credible and significant programs of its kind. The World Car jurors hail from 25 countries, and are appointed by the World Car steering committee on the basis of their expertise, experience, credibility, and influence.

In a separate award, the BlueMotion product brand consisting of the Golf, Passat, and Polo, was declared the "2010 World Green Car of the Year" by the World Car of the Year organisation.

The 59 member jury awarded the BlueMotion product brand over two other finalists in the 2010 World Green Car award: the Honda Insight and the Toyota Prius.

Jurors stated: "It is not necessary to add an electric motor and a heavy battery pack to achieve class-leading efficiency."

There's something going on...

Unusual and mysterious things are afoot. That's because The Event is about to land. 80 vehicles have been flown in direct from Volkswagen. And phenomenal savings on new and used cars are there for the taking. Need more convincing? Well, we've given our team permission to authorise extra discounts on top of the screen price savings. It's going to be pretty spectacular. But it'll only be sticking around for three days so catch it while you can.

The Event.

ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 -
SECTION 14(1)(a)
THE M11 MOTORWAY (JUNCTION 11, CAMBRIDGESHIRE) SLIP ROADS
(TEMPORARY RESTRICTION OF TRAFFIC)
ORDER 2010NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Secretary of State for Transport has made an Order on the M11 Motorway in Cambridgeshire to provide a safe working environment whilst local authority works are being undertaken at Junction 11, to ease congestion coming into Cambridge and to improve access to Addenbrookes Hospital.
The work on the M11 Junction 11 to install traffic signals includes the widening and resurfacing of the southbound exit slip road and associated works on the remaining three slip roads, in addition to this, temporary traffic management will be in operation on all four slip roads to facilitate works being undertaken on the nearby A10/A1307.It is expected that the works will take place from 10am on Monday 26 April 2010 and continue for approximately 20 weeks. The Order will come into force on 19 April 2010 and have a maximum duration of eighteen months.

The effect of the Order will be to -

- 1 impose a 50 miles per hour speed limit, in conjunction with lane closures, on the northbound and southbound entry and exit slip roads at Junction 11 of the M11, and
- 2 prohibit vehicles with an overall width exceeding 3 metres from entering the offside lane of the M11 northbound and southbound exit and entry slip roads leading to and from the M11/A10/A1309
Interchange at Junction 11.

The speed limit (which will not apply to emergency service vehicles) and width restriction (which will not apply to vehicles being used in connection with the works) will be clearly signed throughout the works.MRS A V MIDDLETON

SECTION 14(1)(A)
THE M11 MOTORWAY (JUNCTION 12,
CAMBRIDGESHIRE) (TEMPORARY PROHIBITION OF TRAFFIC) ORDER 2010

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Secretary of State for Transport has made an Order on the M11 Motorway in the County of Cambridgeshire to allow for the installation of motorway incident and accident detection loops to be carried out in safety.

The works are expected to take place over 4 nights at each location (10pm – 5am) starting on, or after, Monday 26 April 2010. The Order will come into force on 19 April 2010 and have a maximum duration of eighteen months.

- The effect of the Order will be to close, from Monday –
  - 1.26 April, the M11 northbound carriageway between its junctions with the exit and entry slip roads leading to and from the A603 at Junction 12 Cambridgeshire, and
  - 2.3 May, the M11 southbound carriageway between its junctions with the exit and entry slip roads leading to and from the A603 at Junction 12 Cambridgeshire.

- During the closures vehicles will be diverted off and back onto the M11 via the exit and entry slip roads.

The closures (which will not apply to emergency service, traffic officer or works vehicles) and diversion routes will be clearly signed throughout the works.

shearline
manufacturing your future

Shearline provides bespoke precision manufacturing services to clients in the high technology, aerospace & defence sectors. Total Manufacturing Solutions include: CNC precision engineering, sheet metal fabrication, assembly and test capability, Design for Manufacture, supply chain and project management services. To enhance our already renowned Centre of Excellence for Manufacturing we are looking for the following people to join our team:

Estimator

We need a competent and experienced person to process customer enquiries and quotes up to and including 5th Axis Milling machines, CNC Turning, Fabrication, Welding and Assembly. Ideally having already served an Engineering apprenticeship and had experience a number of years of costings.

CNC Millers and Turners

Skilled CNC machinist to programme, set and run Fanuc controlled machines. The successful applicant will probably have served an apprenticeship. We would like you to have machined a range of materials including stainless, mild steel and aluminium. You must be able to work to high tolerances and be responsible for the quality of your own work. We have Mori Seiki, HAAS, Star, Sliding Head, Takisawa and Matsuura 5th axis machines.

Prototype and Rapid Manufacture Team

As well as being a highly skilled engineer in either CNC precision engineering or sheet metal fabrication the successful candidates must possess strong mechanical design skills and design for manufacturing experience.

General Engineering Assistant (full or part-time)

To deburr (fettle) machined parts. This role would suit someone who is extremely dexterous for delicate work. Load, unload and routine maintenance of the MecWash. This role would ideally suit someone who has engineering experience but is not essential as training would be given.

Sheet Metal Worker

Experienced in sheet metal processes including fabrication, development and sheet metal assembly. Ideally we are looking for someone who has programmed, set and operated LVD Axel Laser, Trumpf TC2020R punch, Amada HFB 8025 and FHE 100/30, Mebusa CNC Pressbrake. You must be competent at general Sheet Metal duties including: deburring, drilling and spot welding.

TIG Fabricator/Welder

Must be able to TIG weld on stainless steel.

Manufacturing Expeditor

In this role you will be responsible for expediting product and providing an essential link as part of the manufacturing process to both manufacturing and scheduling. The ideal candidate will need strong communication (including MRP and Excel) and negotiating skills. Also will be required to load routing and BOM structures to manufactured items from information provided as well as assisting the rest of the team as part of the daily activities.

Materials Manager

Managing a team which includes Stores, Goods In/Out, Purchasing and Transportation you will be responsible for materials supply to production, accurate inventory control, goods in inspection, finished goods coupled with supply chain improvements and ongoing price reductions. You will ideally have an Engineering background in materials management linked to creative thinking and problem solving. You should possess good interpersonal skills, be a strong communicator and have excellent negotiation skills. A minimum of 3 years experience in a similar role is essential.

Stores Assistant

We are looking for someone mainly to book parts into finished goods stock, to pick, pack and organize the despatch of manufactured products to customers. You must be willing and flexible to carry out other stores duties too. You must hold a Fork Lift Truck license.

Handyperson

If you have a flair for DIY type building jobs, cleaning and dismantling and fixing items. This position is initially a 3 month contract however if you have a background in maintenance/electrical/mechanical then we may be able to utilize your skills on a longer term basis.

If interested in any of the above vacancies or in an Engineering Apprenticeship then please send your details to:

MECHANICAL AND ELECTRICAL TECHNICIANS

£22,082

Reference: 380758, 380921, 380922 & 380923

Cambridgeshire & Suffolk

With responsibility for the MOD Estate – around 1% of the UK's land mass – our projects vary hugely in size and financial scale, from modern military towns to training grounds and airfields, to buildings of historic importance and rare rural habitats.

DE USF (Defence Estates United States Forces) works with USAF (United States Air Force) and NATO military missions, managing capital works and maintenance projects on bases within the UK. Depending on your experience and expertise, you could be supporting the US Air Force by managing engineering construction, maintaining existing buildings or leading specialist projects.

Whether your experience has been gained in the commercial or public sector, your responsibilities with us will be much the same as you'd expect. But the range of projects you could be involved with will exceed your expectations.

We're looking for M&E (Mechanical and Electrical) Technicians to join us and forge a career with Defence Estates. With over 4000 establishments across the UK and overseas, the professional challenges available are immense – from working with contemporary new builds to listed and heritage sites.

To apply, you will need an ONC/OND or equivalent in a relevant engineering discipline or have successfully completed an MOD engineering technician apprenticeship. You will hold a full and valid UK Driving Licence and will need to undertake and pass the Management Competency Test (External A&DC).

Closing date: Sunday 9th May 2010.

Interviews will be held in May 2010.

Visit www.civilianjobs.mod.uk or call 0800 345 7772 to find out more.

&gt;&gt; Football: Youth round-up

Withersfield 5
Willingham Wolves 1

Cambridge and District Colts League, under-12D
WITHERSFIELD were determined not to rest on their laurels after winning the divisional championship and pressured Willingham from the start.

Ty Alleyne scored their first, chipping the ball over the defence and then running on to fire past the keeper, and skipper Jason Moore added the second, slamming home a rebound after Bailey Cassidy's shot from Paul Notley's cross forced a brilliant save from the keeper. Cassidy added the third, capitalising on good work by man-of-the-match Cameron Kidd, and although Willingham pulled a goal back, Kidd and another goal from Cassidy killed the game off.

Manager Neil Mustoe said: "It was good to see the lads still hungry for the win despite already having won the league, we played some really great football today."

Plantation 2*Castle Camps 5

Cambridge and District Colts League, under-11
CASTLE Camps came away with a good win on a poor pitch in windy competitions.

Kane Robson opened the scoring but Plantation responded with two goals and looked likely to take a 2-1 lead into half time before James Austin fired home.

Camps took charge in the second half and wrapped up victory with goals from Owen Thompson, Kieron Farrow and Brandon Westley.

Thurlow 4*Plantation 5

Cambs Mini League, under-9

TYFUN Yagir slammed a hat-trick as Thurlow lost out in a nine-goal thriller.

Yagir started the goal rush when he put the home side ahead and although Plantation rallied to go 2-1 up, he added his second to make it all square again.

Will Wilson rattled the crossbar before Finley Plant put Thurlow ahead from a free kick, but a three-goal burst from Plantation gave them the upper hand. Yagir's third set up a grandstand finish but the home side could not draw level again.

Cassidy, Kidd lead Wolves a merry dance

Thurlow 0 Stetham Sporting 0

Cambridge and District Colts League, under-12F

THURLOW wound up their season with an enthralling end-to-end match which produced a fair result.

Man-of-the-match Alex Nolan kept a tight rein on the defence, which was only breached twice – Daniel Marsh clearing off the line and keeper Ewan Nimmons making a good save.

However, the home team's hopes were raised by waves of attacks which produced chances for Scott robin, Marsh, Billy Jarvis, Conor Magee and Lewis Head.

But they were either foiled by good goalkeeping or shot wide.

Huntingdon Rowdies 0*Haverhill Rovers 1

S-Tech Cambs Girls League, under-15

A SOLITARY second-half goal from Charlotte Westrope settled a game which, until then, had been dominated by in-form goalkeepers.

Rovers had started the better, but Katie Schulz and Stacey Roper were denied by the Huntingdon shot-stopper.

And as the home side started to get back into the clash, Rachel Jeffs proved her worth.

Westrope, who found lots of room on the left in the second half, struck after playing a one-two with Roper.

Newmarket Town 3*Withersfield Youth 6

Cambridge and District Colts League, under-13A

MITCHELL Burr scored a hat-trick as Withersfield won a nine-goal affair at Newmarket. Oliver Fish, Joe Baker and Sam DeMartino completed the scoring.

West Wrating 9*Spartak 78 1

Under-12 friendly

WEST Wrating had the game won before half time when, with the aid of Ellis Wiffen's hat-trick, they were 5-1 ahead.

Charlie Ripp and Charlie Ellam added the other goals but Wrating found the going harder in the early stages of the second half when they could not get to grips with Spartak's offside tactics.

For a while they were constantly thwarted by the offside flag but once they got the hang of prising the defence open Wiffen scored his fourth, Ellam scored two more and Jesse Luff got his reward for a hard-working performance.

Wrating fixture storm

WEST Wrating's fixtures pile-up has caught up with them as they were forced to call off Wednesday's Kershaw League, Premier Division game at Great Shelford because of a lack of players.

Wrating are set to be hit with a three-point deduction and a £100 fine for the late postponement, with a new date to be arranged for the game.

Player-manager Mike Bavester was unrepentant over calling off what would have been his side's seventh match in 15 days.

He said: "If they'd made us play, I told the club I'd stand down, because enough is enough."

"Cambs FA don't legislate for bad weather or teams having cup runs when they make the schedule and we've had players missing days off work because of knocks they've picked up as we've had so many games."

"It's made a mockery of the league."

On Saturday, Lee Crick notched the only goal as table-topping Cambridge University Press won 1-0 at Wrating.

Then Dean Craig netted the only goal as Wrating won 1-0 at home to Eaton Socon on Monday, despite having Johnny Camfield sent off for two bookings.

Fordham had to settle for a point in their 1-1 draw at home to Hendon on Tuesday.

Jonny Flack lobbied the keeper to put the strugglers ahead on the half hour only for Dave Wilson to restore parity for the visitors five minutes later following a goalmouth scramble.

&gt;&gt; Tennis:

Harry's wild about win

HARRY Wendelken celebrated an excellent win as the Mini Winter Series drew to a close at the Haverhill Tennis Club.

Competing at his home club, Wendelken emerged victorious from the orange competition, while fellow member Greg Birch enjoyed a good run in the green competition where he reached the final.

Wendelken's triumph was far from straightforward. The talented youngster had to overcome stubborn resistance from Travis Ireland in his first group match, coming from a tie-break and 6-1 down to eventually triumph.

Wendelken saved four match points in the second set before eventually going on to win a pulsating match 5-7, 8-6, 7-5.

Ireland and Wendelken both beat Gokhan Salman but it was Wendelken who went through to the final as group winner. He faced the other group winner Edward Johns, who had wins over Zach Bott and Zoe Foulds.

Despite a spirited performance from Johns, Wendelken won 7-2, 7-4 to complete an excellent winter season that saw him top the orange series leaderboards in both Suffolk and Cambs.

In the green competition Birch was up against strong opposition from Thomas Williams and Nick Ghaznavi but he was in excellent form.

He beat Freddie Holmes 4-2, 4-1 and Peter Cooke 4-1, 4-1 to win the group and qualify for the final against Ghaznavi.

Ghaznavi won a closely fought first set on a tie-break and, with Birch still recovering from an illness, his rival went on to claim the second relatively comfortably, winning 4-1.

It's a Captains' classic as the Kennedys edge in

MORE than 120 competitors turned up for the Captains' Drive-In, hosted by David Chapman and Sally Price, with the ensuing competition proving to be a tight affair. The husband-and-wife pairing, Graham and Pat Kennedy, won on countback after finishing level on 44 points with seniors' captain Dick Sisman and Ivan Drury. Brian Jones and Simon Price were a further point adrift in third place. Sue Carr and David Pipe hit the longest drives of the day while nearest the pin for the ladies was Lyn Fish and for the men, Steve Bush. The best front-nine score went to Don Simpson and Peter Hinchliffe with 23pts, and the best back nine total came from Peter Mercer and Andy Gill with 21pts. And to cap the day, Karen Wilby scored a hole in one on the par-three, 112-yard second hole, using an 11 wood.

BRIAN Jones and Steve Piotrowski bounced back to win the Touchwood Cup at the Haverhill club, launching a staggering recovery from three-down at the 11th to win two-up. They stunned their final rivals, the strong pairing of Dave Pipe and Dan Wilkins, with a strong recovery which took them to one-up at the 15th. The next two holes were halved but Jones and Piotrowski made sure of victory by winning the 18th.

>>> Trevor Broomfield did not let the wet conditions deter him, winning the IFF Challenge final by three shots. He fired 90-21-69 to beat Andy Softley (84-13-71) while junior member Chris Vince was third with the lowest gross score of the day (77-5-72). >>> Ted and Anna Fairhead dominated the Winter Mixed Foursomes final, winning the first five holes against Catie Heathfield and Peter McLennan. Playing consistently for the rest of the round, they recorded a 5&4 victory. >>> Harvey Bavester continued his recent run of form winning the juniors event, the 'A Steam', on countback from Jake Graves Whiting. Bavester scored 80-10-70 with the runner-up on 89-19-70. Vince (76-5-71) again had the lowest gross score. And, in excellent conditions, Michael Perrett won the P Franklin Trophy with 79-16-63 and has now had his handicap reduced to 14. Liam Merritt was second with 84-18-66 while Charlie Sigler was third, 85-18-67. They too have had their handicaps trimmed and will play off 17. >>> Catie Heathfield topped the Haverhill Sweep Order from Gordon Price, Charlie Hudson and Andy Fish. However, the final was won by Derek Thomas with 40pts from David Roope (40pts) and Paul Donno (39pts). >>> Heather Aldred won the ladies medal on countback. Eldred (97-21-76) pipped Jackie Condon (96-20-76) and Lyn Fish (102-25-77). Pat Wellstead and ladies' captain Sally Price were in good form in their midweek match, Wellstead winning on countback after recording 104-36-68 to Price's 96-28-68. Both have also had their handicaps reduced. >>> Haverhill were beaten in the first round of the Stenson Cup by Felixstowe, who led 2½ - 1½ after the morning foursomes and then dominated the singles to win 9½-2½. >>> The men's April Medal, C Darken first leg and PGA Pro-am combined event was played on Sunday, with new Haverhill member Andrew Martin coming out top and earning the right to play with club pro Paul Wilby in the regional final at King's Lynn. Details - Division One: 1 Robert Rudge 81-11-70, 2 Bob Spittle 78-8-70, 3 Alastair Cocks 83-12-71. Division Two: 1 John Stokes 85-17-68, 2 Don Simpson 87-17-70, 3 Lewis Whiting 89-17-72. Division Three: 1 Andrew Martin 90-22-68, 2 Martin Mansfield 92-22-70, 3 David Chapman (club captain) 97-25-72.

Wardley suffers ups and downs

STUART Wardley has had a mixed week for Haverhill, netting the penalty which earned them a point against Premier Division leaders Needham Market but then scoring an own goal in the 2-0 home defeat by Leiston on Tuesday.

Against Needham, Rovers went ahead with only eight minutes gone when Marc Abbott flicked the ball past the stranded goalkeeper and three defenders into the net.

Abbott continued to be a real threat to the Needham defence and he saw a decent effort from the right-hand side of the box pushed away by the shot-stopper.

Matt Morrison made a good save to deny a visiting attacker, but the rebound was converted to make it 1-1 at half time.

And the table-toppers went in front early in the second half when Morrison could only parry the ball into the path of an onrushing forward, who headed the ball over him.

Haverhill lost Danny Shipton to a calf injury on the hour mark, but they kept plugging away and, after Abbott had been tripped inside the box and the keeper sent off, Wardley found the bottom corner with his spot-kick.

Rovers put up a brave display against Leiston at Hamlet Croft on Tuesday, and although Wardley tried to make amends for his own goal by going close with a volley, they were ultimately out of luck.

Louis Harper also drew a good save from the visiting goalkeeper.

Peter Betts' charges are back in Premier Division on Saturday when they travel to Debenham, before travelling to take on Newmarket on Tuesday.

Haverhill still on the way up

Swaffham 15 Haverhill 18 Eastern Counties League, Division Two IT was not to be for Haverhill in their quest for the Eastern Counties Two title.

They did what they could, winning the last game of the season at Swaffham, but with leaders Harwich & Dovercourt winning 9-3 at Ipswich YM it meant Haverhill were deprived of the title.

They finished a point behind in second, but have earned promotion.

"There's been a few ups and downs and we have used 40 players," said skipper Ryan Raffell. "But it's been really nice to lead the lads this year.

"It's been a massive team effort

Ryan Raffell: 'It's been really nice to lead the lads this year.'

from the club and the players. There's been some great performances. All in all, if we had been offered second place and only two defeats at the start of the season, I would have snapped your hand off."

A missed tackle allowed the hosts to take the lead, but on 12 minutes, a five-metre scrum ended with Kevin Carr squeezing off the back to touch down, and Jake Plumridge converted.

However, down to 14 men, Haverhill were driven off the ball at a scrum and the hosts grounded to go 10-7 ahead.

After the break, Brodie Patrick fly-hacked forward and after outpacing his opponents, produced a good pick up to go over for 12-10.

Both teams then had players sin-binned before Plumridge landed a penalty to extend Haverhill's lead and a further kick made it 18-10.

With four minutes remaining, Swaffham crossed the line, but Haverhill held on for victory.

Home start for cricketers

THE cricket season makes a tentative start on Saturday when Haverhill are due to take on East Bergholt at home (1pm) in the Marshall Hatchick Two Counties League, Division Two. The club's second XI, who play in Division Six, and the two Sunday sides, who will compete in the Hunts County Bats League, do not start their league campaigns until the following week.
